How we work – exceeding all the standards

From initial design concept to in- Store displays, the product life cycle of our merchandise assortments generally consists of the phases described below. At any given time, our teams are working on multiple stages of the product lifecycle process so that we can offer final products at competitive prices. These prices are aided further by the low overhead cost structure in Bangladesh. This advantage enables us at Ayasha & Galeya to handle orders of any volume, style and color with short lead times.

Phase I - Design and Merchandising:

Inspiration, imagination and insight into the wants and needs of our customers are the creative building blocks of our merchandise assortments. In tandem with sourcing merchandise our merchandisers constantly learn about our customers and study cultural and fashion trends. Once concepts have been developed, it's time to turn them into real clothes. Our employees at Ayasha & Galeya work closely together to translate inspiration into product assortments we believe our Customers will want to wear. Working from designer's drawings our pattern makers create rough sample garments. Samples are then carefully edited into focused product assortments right for our customers.

Phase II - Planning and Sourcing:

When designs are set and an assortment has been chosen, planning and distribution specialists help merchandisers create a plan for every style. We as the manufacturing units have to understand every detail of production, from raw material to price, packaging and delivery. In international factory manufacturing delays of missing information is a major source of frustration and problems with our technology, systems, and continuous investment, we ensure customers are kept updated with the exact status of their orders.

Ayasha & Galeya Fashions Ltd also helps customers by sourcing items on their behalf from Bangladesh. The company nominates and oversees second- and third-tier vendors for clients so they don't have to contend with a plethora of local suppliers. The sourcing team offers complete logistics, quality assurance and timely dispatch of goods to our valued customers.

Sourcing Strengths:

Steady Relationship with Local washing plant, embroidery, printing and trim & accessories factory .

Long terms relationships with multiple vendors across different product categories including knitwear, sweaters and woven.

In-house Pattern making and sample development facilities.

Dedicated team of highly qualified and talented merchandizers to manage orders.

Strong in-house quality assurance team to ensure AQL of 1.5 for all product categories.

Ayasha & Galeya Fashions Ltd marketing experts are prepared to answer questions regarding your business.

Phase III - Production and Marketing:

Ayasha & Galeya make the product samples, in order to confirm the fit. Once approved, the factory begins production. We ensure extensive QC monitoring from fabric arrival to product packing. All testing which include dimensional stability, colorfastness, fabric/garment performance, color matching (spectrophotometer), composition and fabric analysis are undertaken on every batch of fabric and of course, all testing methods conform to international safety standards.

Ayasha & Galeya, specializes in manufacturing Woven Trousers, Dresses, Shorts, Long Pants, Denim Pants, twill Pants, Cargo Pants, overall, swimming short, jumpsuit, Shirts and Jackets. We are equipped with 7 fully integrated production lines spread across 33000 square feet of ergonomically designed production floors. And bonded store space around 4000 square feet. Run by a highly efficient workforce of more than 750 people, the company has the capacity to produce 100 to 220 thousand pieces per month based on styling. Some of the machines that Ayasha & Galeya Fashions Ltd uses to ensure quality products for sewing are from Juki, Brothers etc.

Ayasha & Galeya Fashions Ltd follows best manufacturing practices, and our highly skilled and experienced Industrial Engineering and Quality Assurance teams ensure that we are able to deliver quality products on a consistent basis.

We take pride in offering safe, friendly and comfortable work environments for our employees - all of our facilities exceed the compliance.

Phase IV - Distribution:

At Ayasha & Galeya, prior to shipment of the products every single box is checked, cartons are counted, quantities are confirmed and random audits are performed to effectively maintain the internal inventory. As merchandise is added to inventory, it's designated for delivery to a specific destination according to size, color and quantity. The distribution centers then move the merchandise to the appropriate stores.

Phase V - Sales and Analysis:

The sales analysts of our independent sales analysis teams monitor quarterly sales trend reports, and determine which styles need to be replenished. Replenishment shipments typically occur in one to three trail orders. At the end of each season, we assess our performance and feedback on our shipments, and look for improvements and begin the cycle all over again.

Looking towards the future at Ayasha & Galeya

At Ayasha & Galeya we believe that business profitability and environmental responsibility are not mutually exclusive. We strive to keep this in mind in principle and practice. To this end, we have developed two basic tenets to guide us in our work. Ayasha & Galeya is an equal opportunity employer. All employment decisions are to be made without regard to race, color, age, gender, religion, marital status, national origin .To us, diversity means respecting visible differences of age, race, gender, nationality, physical ability or culture. We at Ayasha & Galeya encourage our employees to take individual steps to protect and restore the environment, and empower them to ensure that company activity is consistent with our environmental policies. How we operate reflects our values, beliefs, and business ethics!
